How Quiet Heat Pumps Can Create a Bang for Your Business

Picture this common HVAC nightmare scenario. A young couple settles in on the couch for a cozy night of watching tv in their new home. With lights dimmed and blankets curled around them, they are tucked in for the evening and engrossed in their show. Until...

CLICK! CRANK! RRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRR.

The A/C roars into high gear, completely drowning out the tv and annoying the couple. Night after night. Exasperated, they call you, their contractor, begging you to put an end to the noise once and for all.

For Homeowners, Energy Efficiency Is All About Saving the Greenbacks

It's no secret to anyone in the HVAC industry: Homeowners want to save money. And with heating and cooling accounting for nearly half the energy use in a typical U.S. home, it's not a surprise that the market for energy-efficient products continues to remain strong. According to a recent study by Zillow, energy efficiency ranked among the top priorities during a home search. So, when it comes to "going green," is it more about saving the environment or saving money?

Never Stop Enhancing Your Trade Skills

If you are an experienced HVACR tech, it's safe to say you know the ins and outs of the industry. You know how to inspect, install, maintain, repair and replace systems. And you know how to use your tools like the back of your hand.

As professional as you are when it comes to installing HVACR units or performing preventative maintenance, your knowledge does not have to end there. In fact, Fieldpiece believes in learning something new every day!

But don't just take our word for it, here are three additional reasons why ongoing professional development matters.

The Water Stops Here

At BrassCraft, we believe plumbing is a craft—one of the few we have left. We work hard every day to promote the craft, respect it, and put the pros who practice it at the forefront of our work. It's our privilege and a responsibility to be trusted by pros.

BrassCraft offers a broad range of angle or straight configurations available for compression, FIP, CPVC, Press Connect and PEX connections.

BrassCraft G2™ Series 1/4 Turn Stops control water flow at the fixture or appliance with an easy 90-degree turn of the handle. Innovative, one-piece shut-off mechanism works smoothly with no freeze-ups. Sure-grip handle removes easily to prevent accidental operation during rough-ins. Precision machined solid brass body comes in multiple finishes.

Sophisticated, Sustainable Surfaces to Steal the Spotlight in 2022

After a year full of unpredictability, many of us gained a newfound appreciation for our kitchens and the many purposes they serve. The heart of the home is getting the attention it deserves as homeowners realize the importance of having a multi-faceted kitchen and are ready to invest in new solutions for the way we now live.
