APR Supply Editorial – Vol. 5: Creating Age-Friendly Spaces

The concept of "aging in place" has gained significant traction in recent years as homeowners increasingly seek to make their living environments adaptable for all stages of life. For kitchen and bath designers and remodelers, understanding and incorporating aging in place solutions is not just a trend, but a responsible and thoughtful approach to design.

As the population continues to age, creating spaces that cater to accessibility, safety, and comfort becomes paramount. Here's what remodelers need to know about aging in place solutions in kitchens and bathrooms:

HVAC Industry & Product Trends Into 2030

Understanding industry trends today leads to future success.

the latest trends, while not all new, are being hailed as significant because of the explosive growth projected in the HVACR industry. What was once considered fads or more niche, based on region or affluence – are now becoming mainstream customer demands. And according to all projected forecasting, there is no expected slowdown in growth into 2030.

R.W. Beckett AF/AFG Oil and Renewable Fuels Burner – The Industry’s First B100 UL Listed Burner

The Beckett Corporation announces another milestone in support of the industry’s drive to carbon neutrality, now shipping the Beckett AF/AFG Oil and Renewable Fuels Burner with full UL listing for use with biodiesel blends up to B100.

The B100 UL Listing further establishes R.W. Beckett as the leader in carbon neutral solutions for the industry and is consistent with the company’s alignment with the Providence Resolution adopted by the liquid fuel heating industry in 2019.

Determining Whether a Job Is a Simple Repair or Full Re-pipe

The decision on whether to repair a failed section of pipe or recommend a full re-pipe isn't always an easy one. Homeowners may balk at the expense of a re-pipe, but if problems are systemic, it could save them from additional failures and expensive damage down the line.

On the other hand, there may not be a reason to re-pipe a home if the cause of the failure is isolated. The challenge for plumbers, then, is to accurately determine the cause of the failures and diagnose which are isolated and which are likely to lead to future problems.
